FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Tad Jakes Appointed President and CEO of Erie Aviation

Erie, Penn., November 9, 2012 —Today Erie Aviation announced that Mr. Tad Jakes has been appointed President and CEO of Erie Aviation, Inc., (“Erie Aviation”), replacing Mr. Craig McCune.

Prior to this appointment, Mr. Jakes was the Executive Vice President and head of sales and marketing for the company. Mr. Jakes joined Erie Aviation in 2010. He has spent more than 30 years working in the aviation industry, having started his career in the United States Air Force and having held technical, sales, and management positions in such companies as Fairchild Aircraft, Fairchild Dornier as well as a founding partner of Victorville Aerospace.

Mr. Craig McCune is relinquishing this position as a result of his return to Conner Holding Corporation, the parent of Erie Aviation, where he will be involved in the management of Conner Holding Company investments and businesses. Mr. McCune commented, “It has been a privilege to work with the great team of people at Erie Aviation over the past 3 years. While I am eager to assume my new responsibilities at Conner Holding, I will miss everyone at Erie and I wish them continued great success”.

Mr. Jakes commented, “First and foremost I want to thank Craig for his contributions the past 3 years. We are now well positioned for rapid growth and we wish Craig all the best in his new assignments at Conner Holding”.
